OPTIONS SECURED ON COAL

Canonsburg Man Acquires Hold on 1,600 Acre Tract

PRICE IS $400 AN ACRE

Much interest is felt in West Bethelhem township in the neighborhood of Odell as the result of a number of options taken Tuesday by C. M. Greer, of Canonsburg on coal land which up to this time has remained in the possession of the original owners. Mr. Greer who is in the employ of the Pittsburg Coal Company represents in this deal a group of capitalists whose identity has not been disclosed.

The block of coal on which Mr. Greer secured the options comprises 1600 acres adjoining the holdings of the Ellsworth Colleries company, the Pittsburg-Westmoreland Coal company and the lands owned by Isaac W. and Thomas Semans, of Uniontown. The block lies along both sides of the national pike about eight miles east of town and is within one and one-half miles of the operations at Cokeburg. These 1600 acres form the largest tract in one block east of Washington in Washington county under which the coal has not been sold.

The option price was $400 an acre. Mr. Green paying down a small amount to show good faith. He took a 30 day's option and the owners of the various farms concerned feel confident that the deal will be consummated within the time limit.

MIXTURE TOO MUCH

Whiskey and Jamaica Ginger Led to Death of Peter Liston

WIFE IDENTIFIES BODY

It has been ascertained to a certainty that the dead body found on the Granville road, about a mile and a half from Coal Center last Tuesday afternoon, was that of Peter Liston, a Hungarian coal miner, whose home was at Granville.

Mrs. Liston, wife of the deceased, has given a full description of clothing worn by her husband on Saturday, July 13, when he went to Coal Center to purchase a trunk for his daughter, who was going to take a trip. The trunk was purchased by Liston from Mike Goodwin, of Coal Center.

The wife said that Liston was drinking Jamaica ginger and whiskey before leaving for Coal Center, and she did not make any great ado that evening or the next day when he did not return, as he was in the habit of going away and not returning sometimes for several days. Several persons saw him lying in a clump of bushes at the side of the road, but they supposed the man was sleeping When the body was found it was badly decomposed and the interment was made soon afterward, without identification. When found there were $8.87 in the pockets of the dead man.

RUN OVER BY BUGGY, COLA SLUMBERS ON

Bad Liquor Causes Finlander to Choose Middle of Road as Resting Place

WAS THOUGHT INJURED

He was horrifield when he returned to the spot and found, as he thought that the man was dead and hurried back to Coal Center to inform the local officers of his gastly find.

Constable S. J. Ansell went back with him to the spot where the supposed corpse was lying and it was found that instead of the man being dead, he was only dead drunk. Restoratives were applied and the man was soon able to tell the officer that his name was Mike Cola and his home in Granville. He had imbibed too freely of bad liquor, having attended a wedding at Daisytown and taken too many drinks. He was haled before a magistrate where he paid a fine of 67 cents.

The boy was taken there from the Naomi mine Tuesday night. His left leg was horribly crushed.

It is said that the boy had been playing about the entrance of the Naomi mine, without heed to warnings, and relaxing his watchfullness for a moment failed to note the approach of a mine car until it had carried him under the wheels.

LOST BOY STOIC IN DISTRESS

Tiny Lad Enjoys Himself as Guest of Chief of Police

CAME FROM MONESSEN

Five-year old George Kusher, of Monessen, the son of Joseph Kusner took affairs philosophically Tuesday night when he was picked up out Maple Creek, as much lost as though in an Egyptian labryinth. When found he was seated on a log calmly gazing into a fire. He was brought to Charleroi and placed in the care of Chief of Police C. W. Albright, who gave him his supper. Taken to the police station in the automobile patrol to await any news from searchers, he maintained the same stoicism and indeed seemed to enjoy the scrutiny to which he was subjected.

He was taken home by Chief of Police Albright and given a bath and a clean bed. This morning the father, hearing of the lost boy came to Charleroi and claimed him. He had no idea how he wondered so far away from home.

Parents of Missing Girl Blame Young Man in Suicide Case

REWARD IS OFFERED

Every possible effort will be made to locate the young man who is said to have been with Nellie [illegible] Monessen preceding her death Sunday morning at Morgantown, W. Va. The family of the girl in Monessen have offered a liberal reward for his apprehension.

The relatives of the girl do not think that the young man is a resident of either Monessen or Morgantown, but think that he resides in Pittsburg. For some time past the dead girl had been keeping company with a young man from Pittsburg.

The Morgantown authorities have practically given up the search for the young man companion of the dead girl, according to an announcement given out today. It is thought that the young man hails from Pennsylvania. The coroner's jury found that the girl had met her death in the river voluntarily and no charge being made against any one, the hunt for him was called off.

The Roth Brewery of [illegible] is making a search for a team of horses, which it is feared has been stolen. The team was taken Monday from the fields near the brewery.

CROPS AND BUSINESS.

With increasing industrial activity in the largest trades, the crop outlook excellent and mercantile conditions sound the stock market during the past week followed the lead of business by breaking away from politics. During the past few months business has been restricted by the unusual political activity of a Presidential year, and was further hampered by the uncertainty of the crop outlook says the Philadelphia Press. Since then seasonable weather in the Northwest has caused great advancement and within two weeks the Spring wheat crop will be beyond danger from draught. With Spring wheat in excellent shape, corn making rapid growth and oats promising a record-breaking crop, business men feel more inclined to go ahead, as bumper crops mean increased traffic for the railroads, which, in turn means a greater demand for equipment and steel and labor, and so the optimistic feeling is spreading all along the line.

The past week has also been marked by improvement in the metal situation. Copper, which started the boom in the metal trade, has been quiet for several weeks, but in the latter part of the week the market again became strong, with the likelihood of the producers being able to assume control of the situation. Steel products are also in better demand and premiums of one to two dollars per ton are being paid to manufacturers by consumers for prompt deliveries of structural steel and plates. The tendency of the market is to harden further.

Prices have been advanced to cover all classes of railroad supplies, railroad spikes and car axles having been advanced last week as well as iron bars and wire products. The outlook for large crops has set the railroads to figuring on their equipment to move the cereals to market and has stimulated a demand for locomotives and cars. Orders for 7200 freight cars were announced on Friday, requiring about 75,000 tons of steel of all kinds to fill and it is understood that orders are pending for 80,000 more cars. There has also been heavy buying of locomotives.

Buying of equipment by the railroads has reached such proportions as to promise to set a new high record. The heavy buying has been very beneficial for labor, as it means not only the employment of more men, but the demand for skilled help is so great that two of the independents have advanced wages ten per cent., while the wages for common labor in the Pittsburg district have been advanced from sixteen to seventeen and one-half cents an hour. Steel men look for still higher prices and believe the Fall will see the best steel trade in several years.

Manufacturing plants are busy in the West and labor is well employed. In New England there is still labor trouble at some centers which is a disturbing factor, as it restricts production and delays deliveries. Higher prices for cotton have caused a corresponding hardening in quotations for cotton and woolen goods. Leather is more active as are also hides, with a tendency to higher prices. In the South and Southwest business is not so brisk as in the North owing to slow collections and the critical period in the making of the cotton crop.

Bank exchanges in the leading cities of the United States last week showed an increase of six per cent. over the corresponding week last year and of 10.8 per cent. over 1910. Forty railroads reporting to the "Financial Chronicle" for the first week in July show an increase in gross earnings of $324,846, or 2.53 per cent., a better showing than was made for the preceding week. Summarized, the week's developments were influenced chiefly by the improvement in the crop outlook and with a continuation of favorable weather in the wheat and corn belts business promises to flourish.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A new Congressman, having been elected to fill a vacancy blew into Washington early in December. He was assigned to a room in the House Office Building. On the morning following his induction into the House Building he went to his own office As soon as he entered the room he emitted a loud roar.

"Police!" he shouted. "Murder! Help!"

They came running from all directions. "What's the matter?" they asked.

"Why," he shouted, "when I left this room last night there was a grand new typewriter standing there on that desk, and when I came in this morning it was gone. It has disappeared. Somebody has stolen it. I demand a detective to trace down this foul crime."

So they had a look and discovered that the desk on which the typewriter stood had one of those disappearing devices and that somebody had come along and turned the typewriter down into the bowels of the desk.

Advice to Lovelorn Maidens.

It is better to have loved a fat man than to have never loved at all.

Don't grab him off just because he wears a white vest. It isn't an infallible sign of aristocracy.

What if he does work in a fly-paper factory? A man in that line of work is apt to stick to his job.

A man whose ears stick out from his head like the wings of a biplane is apt to be generous to a fault, perhaps more generous to a fault than to anything else.

If you are counting on getting any pin money, marry a man who carries his change loose in his trousers' pocket. He may never have very much, but what he has you are welcome to. Beware strong wallets.
—Exchange.

Pews at Cut Rates.

"A reduction of $1 a year in pew rent will fetch the bargain hunter every time," said a sexton. "Only last week a young woman who expects to make her home in this city concluded that of all city churches of this denomination she liked ours best and would take a pew here, but when she found she could get a pew that suited her about as well in another church for $2 a year less she let all other considerations go by the board and identified herself with that church.

"The cut rate pew hunter is a recognized feature of modern church life. Because a new member elects to join our congregation does not at all signify that he shares our religious convictions or likes the pastor and our service; it may mean that we charge less for the pew he likes than another church up the street."—Philadelphia Ledger.

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep these signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need do to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads 'round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It's just business, that's all.

PLENTY OF WORK AHEAD IN STATE FOR CONSTABULARY

If the state police force consisted of 1,000, work for every man could be found every day this summer just complying with requests for the aid of the troopers made by men interested in fair associations, camp meeting, old home week celebrations and other function. Applications for details of men for police work at such affairs are pouring into the office of the department at the capitol and some time two and three comes in a day.

The state police have shown what they can do at fairs and at celebrations, but their presence at camp meetings is a new feature which is apparently much desired. Yesterday practically all of the men were out on special service and as many as can be spared will be detailed to the various affairs to be held during August, September and October

ANTICIPATE FAST GOING AT BRUNOT'S ISLAND CONTESTS

Every great trotter and pacer in training in this country has been entered and will be seen in competition at the Grand Circuit meeting of the Pittsburg Driving Club to be held at Brunots' Island Track the week of August 5 to 9. To celebrate the re-entry of Pittsburg into the Grand Circuit, after an absence of 19 years, the newly organized driving club has offered a program of rich stakes and purses unequalled by any association in the country and set a pace that other driving clubs will find hard to follow and impossible to surpass.

CHILD DROWNS AT BROWNSVILLE

While playing with a dog at the bank of Redstone creek, near Walterburg, Tuesday afternoon, Andrew Warthop, aged 6, son of John Warthop, a miner, was drowned. The child was throwing a stick into the swollen stream and sending his dog in after it when the edge of the bank gave way and the little boy was thrown into the water.

WANTS NAMES OF ALL TEACHERS

Superintendent L. R. Crumrine has urged that secretaries of school boards throughoutWashington county be prompt in sending to the superintendent's office lists of recently elected teachers, in order that he may send them notices of the institute to be held prior to the opening of the coming school term. This applies to all districts in the county except those where there are local superintendents.

Mr. Crumrine reports that school boards of the county are slow in sending in their financial reports, only 22 districts out of 64 having been heard from. The districts first reporting, as in past years, will be the first to receive their annual school appropriations. A sworn statement should accompany each report.

The institute, of two days' duration, will be held the last week in August, the exact date not having been decided upon.

Humorous Feminine Rivalry.

The New York Tribune says that an amusing incident occurred at the Gilbert benefit at the Metropolitan Opera house that was not on the program and of which the audience was unware. Miss Destinn and Mrs. Homer were both in Paris last summer and both chose the same dressmaker. What is more, both chose, unknown to the other, the same dress, and behold, when they arrived at the theater yesterday, they were dressed as alike as Tweedledee and Tweedledum. Mrs. Homer was first on the program and, as prima donnas are after all but as other women, there was nothing for Miss Destinn to do but telephone to the Ansonia for another gown. The gown arrived within 15 minutes in a taxicab, in ample time to be donned by Miss Destinn.

Wonderful Sarah Bernhardt.

Sarah Bernhardt often has said it is her enthusiasm and continued interest in life and work to which she ascribes her youthful appearance. Now she has a new enthusiasm—the moving pictures. For years she refused to pose before the moving picture camera. Then she gave her consent and acted "Camille" before a long string of film recently in Paris. She could hardly restrain her eagerness to see the finished pictures, and when they were shown to her she insisted the whole play be repeated several times. Edmond Rostand accompanied her to the exhibition, and when she had delightedly watched the films run off several times she turned to him with all the enthusiasm of a chorus girl, saying, "Now, what next is there for me to do?"

Hit By Stray Bullet.

Prof. A. J. Waychoff, of Waynesburg was struck by a stray bullet on the neck when he was at Bentleyville this week. The strength of the bullet was about spent when it reached him, it barely breaking the skin.

PRESCRIPTION DID THE WORK

Doctor's Advice That at First Seemed Hard-Hearted Effected a Permanent Cure.

Dr. Stephen Smith, who was 84 years old on February 19, is one of New York's distinguished surgeons, and a founder of the first nurses' training school established in this country. He is also the originator of what he calls the "peanut cure" for tuberculosis. He used it with success long before fresh-air sanitariums and sleeping bags had come into vogue.

"I happened to invent the cure in this way," he said. "A rosy-cheeked, wholesome Irish girl brought her sister to my office and asked me what I could do for her. The sister was plain, sickly, and weak, and obviously had bad lungs.

"'What do you do for a living?' I asked the girl with the red cheeks.

"'Tend a corner peanut stand,' she said.

"'And what does your sister do?'

"'Oh, she's too sickly to be outdoors; we don't let her work.'

"'Well,' I said, 'you buy your sister a peanut stand and keep her outdoors. That's the only thing I can recommend.'

"The two girls looked horrified and departed. I did not think anything more about the case until two years later, when two big healthy rosy-cheeked girls came to my office. I recognized one as the peanut stand keeper; the other I couldn't place. But she soon introduced herself as my old patient, the sickly sister of my rosy-cheeked visitor.

"'And what have you been doing to yourself?' I asked.

"'Keeping a peanut stand,' she said."

How Chinese Paint.

Nearly all the painting in the foreign settlements and all in the Chinese cities is done by native workmen with Chinese paint. The use of Chinese material and labor is because of cheapness, although a piece of work never has a finished appearance.

Most of the work is done by the painter taking a bunch of cotton waste, which he saturates by dipping in the paint pot and then rubbing it over the surface to be painted. Even if foreign brushes are furnished the Chinese painter will not use them. He says he saves paint by his method and gets it more evenly distributed over the surface. On exterior surfaces the Chinese paint is not durable, but the coat is so small that the job can be done two or three times for what one painting would cost in America.

"Bluebird" Luncheon.

Bluebird luncheons are one of the pretty fancies of the spring, and Mrs Edward McLean recently extended such a courtesy to Mrs. Peter Goelet Gerry, who was visiting her mother, Mrs. Richard Townsend of Washington. Bluebirds of exquisite plumage fluttered about on wires which were gently swayed by an electric current, and many others were placed on the handle of a mammoth basket of violets. Each place card had a miniature bird in genuine feathers, the artistic work of the Mexicans, and the suggestion was further carried out by bread, milk, sugar and other characters in Maeterlinck's exquisite play, being decked in flowers and blue gauze and placed at intervals on the daintily spread board. Bluebird luncheons may be given on less expensive lines by having birds of blue velvet and flowers of the spring, jonquils or tulips, and pretty place cards on which the symbolic bird of happiness is painted.—New York Press.

Success Won Early.

Decisive success often is won early in life by stage folk. Dion Boucicault was famous at nineteen as the author of "London Assurance," Nat Goodwin's renown as a mimic was widespread before he was twenty; Edward E. Rice had but turned his majority when he scored with "Evangeline;" Edna Wallace Hopper was in short skirts when she first became an idol of Broadway; George W. Lederer, at the height of his acclaim as a musical comedy producer at the New York Casino was but twenty-seven, and Richard Carle was a full-fledged comedy star at twenty-six.

He Wouldn't Advertise

Breathes there a man, with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:
"My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another eight-inch ad."
If such there be, go mark him well;
For him no bank account shall swell,
No angels watch the golden stair
To welcome home the millionaire
The man who never asks for trade
By local line or ad. displayed.
Cares more for rest than worldly gain,
And patronage but gives him pain,
Tread lightly friends; let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound,
Here let him live in calm repose,
Unsought except by men he owes
And when he dies, go plant him deep,
That naught may break his dreamless sleep;
Where no rude clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well.
And when the world may know its loss,
Place on his grave a wreath of moss,
And on the stone above, "Here lies
A chump who wouldn't advertise."

Advertise and the world is with you!
Don't and you'll be alone.
For the world today will never pay
A Cent to the Great Unknown.

BAPTISTS BEAT THE LUTHERANS

Kearns Victor Over Very in Pitcher's Duel of Six Innings

SIX BINGLES APIECE

The Baptists and Lutherans fought it out to a finish at the ball ground Tuesday night., with the victory finally going to the former, 4 to 2. Kearns and Very were the opposing pitchers and both were in good shape. There were six bingles on each side.

Almost before the Lutherans had time to get firmly established in the field the Baptists had scored two. Adams secured a walk, and stole second. While Donahue was busy making an out to short, Adams went to third on a passed ball. Schmidt got a walk, and stole second. McIlvaine hit a long one to right field, and both Adams and Schmidt came in. In the third Schmidt doubled, and went to third on a passed ball. McIlvaine singled. Schmidt tallied. On an error Deitz was given his base in the fourth. Roy Biginni brought him in by a three bagger.

For the Lutherans Gass doubled in the fifth, Very singled. Then they both came home on an error. That was all the scoring that was done.

How to Fly Old Glory.

Some of the people who fly the flag from their residences or places of business do not seem to know, according to an old soldier, the respect that is due to Old Glory. The rule in the army and navy is that the Stars and Stripes are never flown after sunset nor before sunrise, and civilians are supposed to observe this, though there is no law to make them do so. As a matter of fact, some flags are kept up all night.

OPTIONS SECURED ON COAL

Canonsburg Man Acquires Hold on 1,600 Acre Tract

PRICE IS $400 AN ACRE

Much interest is felt in West Bethelhem township in the neighborhood of Odell as the result of a number of options taken Tuesday by C. M. Greer, of Canonsburg on coal land which up to this time has remained in the possession of the original owners. Mr. Greer who is in the employ of the Pittsburg Coal Company represents in this deal a group of capitalists whose identity has not been disclosed.

The block of coal on which Mr. Greer secured the options comprises 1600 acres adjoining the holdings of the Ellsworth Collieries company, the Pittsburg-Westmoreland Coal company and the lands owned by Isaac W. and Thomas Semans, of Uniontown. The block lies along both sides of the national pike about eight miles east of town and is within one and one-half miles of the operations at Cokeburg. These 1600 acres form the largest tract in one block east of Washington in Washington county under which the coal has not been sold.

The option price was $400 an acre. Mr. Green paying down a small amount to show good faith. He took a 30 day's option and the owners of the various farms concerned feel confident that the deal will be consummated within the time limit.

To Extend Railroad

Pennsylvania Line to be Built Through Rices Landing to Crucible

Work on the extension of the Pennsylvania, Monongahela and Southern railroad from Rices Landing to Crucible, it is rumored will be commenced the fore part of August. The road is to be run overhead through a part of Rices Landing, it is stated. It was formerly intended to continue the line through the main borough street, but a change of plans called for an overhead line, and required new surveys. The extension will take the tracks to Crucible ferry, about two miles south of Rices Landing.

MIXTURE TOO MUCH

Whiskey and Jamaica Ginger Led to Death of Peter Liston

WIFE IDENTIFIES BODY

It has been ascertained to a certainty that the dead body found on the Granville road, about a mile and a half from Coal Center last Tuesday afternoon, was that of Peter Liston, a Hungarian coal miner, whose home was at Granville.

Mrs. Liston, wife of the deceased, has given a full description of clothing worn by her husband on Saturday, July 13, when he went to Coal Center to purchase a trunk for his daughter, who was going to take a trip. The trunk was purchased by Liston from Mike Goodwin, of Coal Center.

The wife said that Liston was drinking Jamaica ginger and whiskey [illegible] Coal Center, and she did not make any great ado that evening or the next day when he did not return, as he was in the habit of going away and not returning sometimes for several days. Several persons saw him lying in a clump of bushes at the side of the road, but they supposed the man was sleeping. When the body was found it was [illegible] by coroner, and the interment was made soon afterward, without any [illegible]. When found [illegible]

As a Finlander from out the Granville road near Coal Center was returning to his home in a buggy Tuesday he ran over what he supposed to be a dead man. He was horrified when he returned to the spot and found, as he thought that the man was dead and hurried back to Coal Center to inform the local officers of his gastly find.

Constable S. J. Ansell went back with him to the spot where the supposed corpse was lying and it was found that instead of the man being dead, he was only dead drunk. Restoratives were applied and the man was soon able to tell the officer that his name was Mike Cola and his home in Granville. He had imbibed too freely of bad liquor, having attended a wedding at Daisytown and taken too many drinks. He was haled before a magistrate where he paid a fine of 67 cents.

LEG OFF; BOY DIES

Eight-Year Old Unable to Stand Amputation of Limb

IS HURT BY MINE CAR

Unable to withstand the amputation of his left leg near the thigh, an operation made necessary by mangling of the limb by a mine car, Ulabo Kasteloe, aged 8, died at the Memorial Hospital at Monongahela this morning. The boy was taken there from the Naomi mine Tuesday night. His left leg was horribly crushed.

It is said that the boy had been playing about the entrance of the Naomi mine, without heed to warnings, and relaxing his watchfulness for a moment failed to note the approach of a mine car until it had carried him under the wheels.

LOST BOY STOIC IN DISTRESS

Tiny Lad Enjoys Himself as Guest of Chief of Police

CAME FROM MONESSEN

Five-year old George Kusher, of Monessen, the son of Joseph Kusner took affairs philosophically Tuesday night when he was picked up out Maple Creek, as much lost as though in an Egyptian labryinth. When found he was seated on a log calmly gazing into a fire. He was brought to Charleroi and placed in the care of Chief of Police C. W. Albright, who gave him his supper. Taken to the police station in the automobile patrol to await any news from searchers, he maintained the same stoicism and indeed seemed to enjoy the scrutiny to which he was subjected.

He was taken home by Chief of Police Albright and given a bath and a clean bed. This morning the father, hearing of the lost boy came to Charleroi and claimed him. He had no idea how he wondered so far away from home.

CROPS AND BUSINESS.

With increasing industrial activity in the largest trades, the crop outlook excellent and mercantile conditions sound the stock market during the past week followed the lead of business by breaking away from politics. During the past few months business has been restricted by the unusual political activity of a Presidential year, and was further hampered by the uncertainty of the crop outlook, says the Philadelphia Press. Since then seasonable weather in the Northwest has caused great advancement and within two weeks the Spring wheat crop will be beyond danger from draught. With Spring wheat in excellent shape, corn making rapid growth and oats promising a record-breaking crop, business men feel more inclined to go ahead, as bumper crops mean increased traffic for the railroads, which, in turn means a greater demand for equipment and steel and labor, and so the optimistic feeling is spreading all along the line.

The past week has also been marked by improvement in the metal situation. Copper, which started the boom in the metal trade, has been quiet for several weeks, but in the latter part of the week the market again became strong, with the likelihood of the producers being able to assume control of the situation. Steel products are also in better demand and premiums of one to two dollars per ton are being paid to manufacturers by consumers for prompt deliveries of structural steel and plates. The tendency of the market is to harden further.

Prices have been advanced to [illegible] all classes of railroad supplies, [illegible] tanks and car axles having [illegible] Tell us iron bars and wire products. The outlook for large crops has set the railroads to figuring on their equipment to move the cereals to market and has stimulated a demand for locomotives and cars. Orders for 7200 freight cars were announced on Friday, requiring about 75,000 tons of steel of all kinds to fill and it is understood that orders are pending for 80,000 more cars. There has also been heavy buying of locomotives.

Buying of equipment by the railroads has reached such proportions as to promise to set a new high record. The heavy buying has been very beneficial for labor, as it means not only the employment of more men, but the demand for skilled help is so great that two of the independents have advanced wages ten per cent., while the wages for common labor in the Pittsburg district have been advanced from sixteen to seventeen and one-half cents an hour. Steel men look for still higher prices and believe the Fall will see the best steel trade in several years.

Manufacturing plants are busy in the West and labor is well employed. In New England there is still labor trouble at some centers which is a disturbing factor, as it restricts production and delays deliveries. Higher prices for cotton have caused a corresponding hardening in quotations for cotton and woolen goods. Leather is more active as are also hides, with a tendency to higher prices. In the South and Southwest business is not so brisk as in the North owing to slow collections and the critical period in the making of the cotton crop.

Bank exchanges in the leading cities of the United States last week showed an increase of six per cent. over the corresponding week last year and of 10.8 per cent. over 1910. Forty railroads reporting to the "Financial Chronicle" for the first week in July show an increase in gross earnings of $324,846, or 2.53 per cent., a better showing than was made for the preceding week. Summarized, the week's developments were influenced chiefly by the improvement in the crop outlook and with a continuation of favorable weather in the wheat and corn belts business promises to flourish.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A new Congressman, having been elected to fill a vacancy blew into Washington early in December. He was assigned to a room in the House Office Building. On the morning following his induction into the House Building he went to his own office. As soon as he entered the room he emitted a loud roar.

"Police!" he shouted. "Murder! Help!"

They came running from all directions. "What's the matter?" they asked.

"Why," he shouted, "when I left this room last night there was a grand new typewriter standing there on that desk, and when I came in this morning it was gone. It has disappeared. Somebody has stolen it. I demand a detective to trace down this foul crime."

So they had a look and discovered that the desk on which the typewriter stood had one of those disappearing devices and that somebody had come along and turned the typewriter down into the bowels of the desk.

Advice to Lovelorn Maidens.

It is better to have loved a fat man than to have never loved at all.

[illegible] wears a white vest. It isn't an infallible sign of aristocracy.

What if he does work in a fly-paper factory? A man in that line of work is apt to stick to his job.

A man whose ears stick out from his head like the wings of a biplane is apt to be generous to a fault, perhaps more generous to a fault than to anything else.

If you are counting on getting any pin money, marry a man who carries his change loose in his trousers' pocket. He may never have very much, but what he has you are welcome to. Beware strong wallets.

Pews at Cut Rates.

"A reduction of $2 a year in pew rent will fetch the bargain hunter every time," said a sexton. "Only last week a young woman who expects to make her home in this city concluded that of all city churches of this denomination she liked ours best and would take a pew here, but when she found she could get a pew that suited her about as well in another church for $3 a year less she let all other considerations go by the board and identified herself with that church.

"The cut rate pew hunter is a recognized feature of modern church life. Because a new member elects to join [illegible] congregation does not at all signify that he shares our religious convictions or likes the pastor and our service; it may mean that we charge less for the pew he likes than another church up the street."—Philadelphia Ledger.

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign remain? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need, do to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever conceived in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are constantly doing a good business.

PLENTY OF WORK AHEAD IN STATE FOR CONSTABULARY

If the state police force consisted of 1,000, work for every man could be found every day this summer just complying with requests for the aid of the troopers made by men interested in fair associations, camp meetings, old home week celebrations and other functions. Applications for details of men for police work at such affairs are pouring into the office of the department at the capitol and some time two and three comes in a day.

The state police have shown what they can do at fairs and at celebrations, but their presence at camp meetings is a new feature which is apparently much desired. Yesterday practically all of the men were out on special service and as many as can be spared will be detailed to the various affairs to be held during August, September and October

Every great trotter and pacer in training in this country has been entered and will be seen in competition at the Grand Circuit meeting of the Pittsburg Driving Club to be held at Brunots' Island Track the week of August 5 to 9. To celebrate the re-entry of Pittsburg into the Grand Circuit, after an absence of 19 years, the newly organized driving club has offered a program of rich stakes and purses unequalled by any association in the country and set a pace that other driving clubs will find hard to follow and impossible to surpass.

CHILD DROWNS AT BROWNSVILLE

While playing with a dog at the bank of Redstone creek, near Walterburg, Tuesday afternoon, Andrew Warthop, aged 6, son of John Warthop, a miner, was drowned. The child was throwing a stick into the swollen stream and sending his dog in after it when the edge of the bank gave way and the little boy was thrown into the water.

WANTS NAMES OF ALL TEACHERS

Superintendent I. C. Crumrine has urged that secretaries of school boards throughout Washington county be prompt in sending to the superintendent's office lists of recently elected teachers, in order that he may send them notices of the institute, to be held prior to the opening of the coming school term. This applies to all districts in the county except those where there are local superintendents.

Mr. Crumrine reports that school boards of the county are slow in sending in their financial reports, only 22 districts out of 64 having been heard from. The districts first reporting, as in past years, will be the first to receive their annual school appropriations. A sworn statement should accompany each report.

The institute, of two days' duration, will be held the last week in August, the exact date not having been decided upon.

Humorous Feminine Rivalry.

The New York Tribune says that an amusing incident occurred at the Gilbert benefit at the Metropolitan Opera house that was not on the program and of which the audience was unaware. Miss Destinn and Mrs. Homer were both in Paris last summer and both chose the same dressmaker. What is more, both chose, unknown to the other, the same dress, and behold, when they arrived at the theater yesterday, they were dressed as alike as Tweedledee and Tweedledum. Mrs. Homer was first on the program and, as prima donnas are after all but as other women, there was nothing for Miss Destinn to do but telephone to the Ansonia for another gown. The gown arrived within 15 minutes in a taxicab, in ample time to be donned by Miss Destinn.

Wonderful Sarah Bernhardt.

Sarah Bernhardt often has said it is her enthusiasm and continued interest in life and work to which she ascribes her youthful appearance. Now she has a new enthusiasm—the moving pictures. For years she refused to pose before the moving picture camera. Then she gave her consent and acted "Camille" before a long string of film recently in Paris. She could hardly restrain her eagerness to see the finished pictures, and when they were shown to her she insisted the whole play be repeated several times. Edmond Rostand accompanied her to the exhibition, and when she had delightedly watched the films run off several times she turned to him with all the enthusiasm of a chorus girl, saying, "Now, what next is there for me to do?"

PRESCRIPTION DID THE WORK

Doctor's Advice That of First Seemed Mad Finished Millionaire's Eccentric Cure.

Dr. Stephen Smith, who was 91 years old on February 19, is one of New York's distinguished surgeons, and a founder of the first nurses' training school established in this country. He is also the originator of what he calls the "peanut cure" for tuberculosis. He tried it with success long before Koch's sanitarium and stamping hats had come into vogue.

"I happened to invent the cure in this way," he said. "A rosy-cheeked, wholesome Irish girl brought her sister to my office and asked me what I could do for her. The sister was pale, sickly, and weak, and obviously had bad lungs.

"'What do you do for a living?' I asked the girl with the red cheeks.

"'Tend a corner peanut stand,' she said.

"'And what does your sister do?'

"'Oh, she's too sickly to be outdoors; we don't let her work.'

"'Well,' I said, 'you buy your sister a peanut stand and keep her outdoors. That's the only thing I can recommend.'

"The two girls looked horrified and departed. I did not think anything more about the case until two years later, when two big healthy rosy-cheeked girls came to my office. I recognized one as the peanut stand keeper; the other I couldn't place. But she soon introduced herself as my old patient, the sickly sister of my rosy-cheeked visitor.

"'And what have you been doing to yourself?' I asked.

"'Keeping a peanut stand,' she said."

How Chinese Paint.

Nearly all the painting in the foreign settlements and all in the Chinese cities is done by native workmen with Chinese paint. The use of Chinese material and labor is because of cheapness, although a piece of work never has a finished appearance.

Most of the work is done by the painter taking a bunch of cotton waste, which he saturates by dipping in the paint pot and then rubbing it over the surface to be painted. Even if foreign brushes are furnished the Chinese painter will not use them. He says he saves paint by his method and gets it more evenly distributed over the surface. On exterior surfaces the Chinese paint is not durable, but the cost is so small that the job can be done two or three times for what one painting would cost in America.

"Bluebird" Luncheon.

Bluebird luncheons are one of the pretty fancies of the spring, and Mrs. Edward McLean recently extended such a courtesy to Mrs. Peter Goelet Gerry, who was visiting her mother, Mrs. Richard Townsend of Washington. Bluebirds of exquisite plumage fluttered about on wires which were gently swayed by an electric current, and many others were placed on the handle of a mammoth basket of violets. Each place card had a miniature bird in genuine feathers, the artistic work of the Mexicans, and the suggestion was further carried out by bread, milk, sugar and other characters in Maeterlinck's exquisite play, being decked in flowers and blue gauze and placed at intervals on the daintily spread board. Bluebird luncheons may be given on less expensive lines by having birds of blue velvet and flowers of the spring, jonquils or tulips, and pretty place cards on which the symbolic bird of happiness is painted.—New York Press.

Success Won Early.

Decisive success often to won early in life by stage folk. Dion Boucicault was famous at nineteen as the author of "London Assurance," Nat Goodwin's renown as a mimic was widespread before he was twenty; Edward E. Rice had but turned his majority when he scored with "Evangeline." Edna Wallace Hopper was in short skirts when she first became an idol of Broadway; George W. Lederer, at the height of his acclaim as a musical comedy producer at the New York Casino was "not quite grown," and Richard Carle was a full-fledged comedy star at twenty-six.

He Wouldn't Advertise

Breathes there a man, with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:
"My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another eight-inch ad."
If such there be, go mark him well;
For him no bank account shall swell,
No angels watch the golden stair
To welcome home the millionaire
The man who never asks for trade
By local line or ad. displayed.
Cares more for rest than worldly gain,
And patronage but gives him pain,
Tread lightly friends; let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound,
Here let him live in calm repose,
Unsought except by men he owes
And when he dies, go plant him deep,
That naught may break his dreamless sleep;
Where no rude clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well.
And when the world may know its loss,
Place on his grave a wreath of moss,
And on the stone above, "Here lies
A chump who wouldn't advertise."

Advertise and the world is with you!
Don't and you'll be alone.
For the world today will never pay
A Cent to the Great Unknown.

BAPTISTS BEAT THE LUTHERANS

Kearns Victor Over Very in Pitcher's Duel of Six Innings

SIX BINGLES APIECE

The Baptists and Lutherans fought it out to a finish at the ball ground Tuesday night, with the victory finally going to the former, 4 to 2. Kearns and Very were the opposing pitchers and both were in good shape. There were six bingles on each side.

Almost before the Lutherans had time to get firmly established in the field the Baptists had scored two. Adams secured a walk, and stole second. While Donahue was busy making an out to short, Adams went to third on a passed ball. Schmidt got a walk, and stole second. McIlvaine hit a long one to right field, and both Adams and Schmidt came in. In the third Schmidt doubled, and went to third on a passed ball. McIlvaine singled. Schmidt tallied. On an error Deitz was given his base in the fourth. Roy Biginni brought him in by a three bagger.

For the Lutherans Gass doubled in the fifth, Very singled. Then they both came home on an error. That was all the scoring that was done. Score:

How to Fly Old Glory.

Some of the people who fly the flag from their residences or places of business do not seem to know, according to an old soldier, the respect that is due to Old Glory. The rule in the army and navy is that the Stars and Stripes are never flown after sunset nor before sunrise, and civilians are supposed to observe this, though there is no law to make them do so. As a matter of fact, some flags are kept up all night.
